The first of these is the fact that the number of people who are employed in the service of the government is increasing at a rapid rate. This is due to the fact that the government is expanding its activities in many fields, and is therefore requiring more personnel to carry out its functions. This is true
in all countries, and is especially true
in those countries which are engaged in large-scale development projects.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a single column and appears to be a continuous narrative or record. The script is dense and characteristic of early modern European handwriting. The document is written on aged, slightly discolored paper.

Main body of handwritten text in a cursive script, covering most of the page.

Handwritten marginal note on the right side.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a single column and appears to be in a non-Latin script, possibly from a European language like Italian or Spanish, given the context of historical documents. The script is dense and flowing, with many ligatures and variations in letter height. There are several large, bold initial letters that stand out from the rest of the text. The paper is aged and slightly discolored, with some visible wear and tear along the edges. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but old piece of paper.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. The script is dense and fills most of the page, with some lines showing signs of fading or wear. The text appears to be a continuous narrative or record, possibly related to a legal or administrative matter, given the presence of some capitalized or bolded words that might be titles or specific terms. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but aged historical document.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely Persian or Urdu, covering the entire page. The text is written in dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. There are two prominent dark circular marks, possibly holes or ink blots, located approximately one-third and two-thirds of the way across the page. The script is dense and flowing, with many small, connected characters. The text appears to be a continuous passage, possibly a letter or a section of a manuscript. The overall appearance is that of an old, well-used document.
